CHANCELLOR'S VISION

I feel extremely happy to note that in spite of the recent lockdown all over the world, SRM University Delhi-NCR has not ceased to carry forward its academic and research-oriented activities. Indeed, the medium is 'online', however, the efforts and results are commendable...

Dear Vice Chancellor, Deans, Faculty & Staff, Students and Parents,

Life is a canvas created with multitudinous shades of happiness, hope, disappointments, remorse, love, sacrifice, adversity, care, support, and the hues continue. No artist, thinker, painter, scientist, engineer, teacher, or any person from any walk of life can either paint one's life only with the shades of happiness or the darker shades of desperation and sorrow. It is the perfect amalgamation which makes life so beautiful, challenging and enigmatic.

Today, human civilization is at a situation when our lives, its hopes, aspirations, dreams and desires have intersected its path with disappointments and fear; life is at a stand-still. However, I would rather consider this stand-still situation a pause – a much needed pause of the hour. It is a pause that human civilization needs for retrospection, introspection, contemplation and serious investigation not just about one's own life but the path that we the members of humanity have traversed so far. The year 2020 began with a shock, threw us into a pandemic which none of us had ever hoped to face. Yet this is nature's way of pausing our incessant drive towards owning everything, including Nature herself!

The role of an educator during times of such adversity has become crucial and pivotal. Those of us engaged in this learning-teaching environment have to understand that today we are not just looking forward to successfully survive this pandemic, rather we have the crucial responsibility of disseminating and propagating education to a generation of young learners for whom the natural order of life has come to a serious halt. As educators, the mission is to create a seamless learning platform for all. Right to education is equivalent to right to life and our role as educators and policy makers is significant now. This present situation should never cause a compromise towards the bright future that we have envisioned for our children, students and aspiring young professionals. I truly believe that we seriously contemplate and introspect during this period and make this 'pause' worthy in its true sense and meaning.

I feel extremely happy to note that in spite of the recent lockdown all over the world, SRM University Delhi-NCR has not ceased to carry forward its academic and research-oriented activities. Indeed, the medium is 'online', however, the efforts and results are commendable. Congratulation to all the faculty members, staff, Deans, Registrar and students!

I would also congratulate the editorial team to come up with this edition of the university newsletter of year 2020 amidst the pandemic situation. Furthermore, congratulations to the student editors for your commendable efforts. It truly gave me immense pleasure to note that the process of learning at SRM University Delhi-NCR is not just restricted to text books, rather the students are successfully implementing the knowledge acquired in classroom on practical fields such as this edition of the university newsletter. Congratulations! Keep moving forward with a clear heart and mind!

Best wishes

Ravi Pachamoothoo
Chancellor
SRM University Delhi-NCR,
Sonapat, Haryana

At the onset of the year 2020, none of us could have predicted the course that this year would take – the trials and tribulations that one would go through, the havoc and the disarray that human civilization would find itself in. However, amidst all the chaos, unsettlement and the feeling of alienation, we have risen like the phoenix and proven to ourselves that no impediments are great enough to throw human civilization into chaos for long.

It wouldn't be too farfetched to say that the year 2020 will be marked in history of humankind as the year when the world truly went online. The need of the hour across various public and private institutions/organizations was to shift from offline mode of working to online wherever possible, and SRM University stood up to this challenge very early by creating virtual online classrooms. Highly qualified faculty members, modern infrastructure and facilities made it possible for a seamless transition from an offline center of learning to online center of learning. These virtual classrooms were created not only to engage the students with their lessons but also to introduce them to learn, collaborate and work online with their teachers and peers. Moreover, the knowledge and the ability of working online with virtual tools is almost a prerequisite for any student graduating today.

VICE CHANCELLOR'S MESSAGE

The way forward...

This newsletter is a testimony to all our endeavours and achievements – to learn and to collaborate is the most natural way to move ahead in life. This university has certainly not stopped on walking on the path of learning and collaboration...

I would like to extend a warm welcome to all the students who aspire to be a part of this glorious knowledge centre - SRM University Delhi-NCR. Indeed, life has been a challenge for all of us in this past one year; however, we at SRM University have succeeded in overthrowing the challenges of year 2020. This newsletter is a testimony to all our endeavours and achievements – to learn and to collaborate is the most natural way to move ahead in life. This university has certainly not stopped on walking on the path of learning and collaboration. When the entire world was shutdown, we at SRM University collaborated with SEIMENS Centre of Excellence (CoE) and created this advanced centre of learning in campus where students, teachers and researchers collaborate and innovate with technology. The Incubation Centre and the webinars conducted by the various departments of this university is another testimony of our incessant march towards innovation and learning to congratulate the students who arose above the challenges and did not stop their quest for learning.

I take this opportunity to congratulate the teaching community across the world – year 2020 had created the perfect environment for teaching and learning efforts to get staggered – and it is unfortunate to note that in certain parts of the world and also in our own country, students and children did face difficulties in this quest. However, the teaching community rose above all challenges and tried its best to impart knowledge in all possible manner. This pandemic did attempt to dwarf our ambitions and vision, but it could not kill the fire that burns inside each and every one of our hearts and propel us towards reaching our greatest potential. The teachers, students, parents, professionals and each and every person have not just lived by example during this most difficult and unfortunate time but have also conquered it.

A hearty congratulations to all the students, the teaching community, staff members and parents! May we always rise above all impediments and darkness in life and create a world which is worth living and appreciating for generations to come.

Best wishes

Online Orientation Programme

FOR BATCH 2020:

COVID-19 lockdowns were no impediments for students who joined SRM University Delhi-NCR in the year 2020. Every year, an orientation programme cum Fresher's week is organized for the fresh batch of students. Year 2020 was no exception in terms of welcoming the new batch and celebrations – only the medium and the venue changed. The online orientation programme cum Fresher's week, e-AAGAAZ-2K20 was a massive success. The overwhelming response from the new batch students was a sure motivator for online classes which started from November, 2020.

WEBINAR ON

Human Rights Day

On 10th December, 2020, the Faculty of Law organized a webinar to celebrate Human Rights Day. Eminent legal experts like Hon'ble Mr. Justice Ravindra Maithani, Sitting Judge, Uttarakhand High Court, Hon'ble Mr. Justice Rajiv Bhalla, Former Judge, Punjab and Haryana, Professor (Dr.) Nishtha Jaswal, Vice Chancellor, Himachal Pradesh, National Law University, Shimla, Prof (Dr.) Anand Pawar, Vice Chancellor, Rajiv Gandhi National University of Law, Punjab and Prof (Dr.) Paramjit S. Jaswal, Vice Chancellor, SRM University, Delhi-NCR were the speakers for the occasion.

Online Event was held on 1st July, 2020 with
Ms. Diane Glass
Commercial Director,
ISC Research Ltd
which is a 25 Years old company with HQ
in London, UK.

The chief agenda of this meeting was to explore ISC Online international school data license for the SRM group of institutions; furthermore, ISC online licence to cover SAARC nations, African nations and APAC zone.

Online Event with
Ms. Kavita Gusai,
International Sales Marketing Manager,
Global Educators & Consultants,
New Delhi

The event was held on 22nd May, 2020 in Zoom. 50+ students from Nepal participated in the event. The event ended with a positive vibe for future relationships to facilitate admissions for Nepali students.

Online Event Organized with Mr. Samuel Columbus, &
Mr. Matthias Ehizua
Promoter of OAA Study
on 3rd June, 2020.

This meeting focused on developing relationships with students of Africa and also initiating 2+2 pathways with Universities in Vietnam and Australia. The team is scheduled to visit India as soon as international travel resume. There is a plan to develop research exchange programs with Swinburne University of Technology, Melbourne.

Online Event with
Mr. Adrian Mutton
CEO Sannam S4
on 14th July, 2020

The main objective of this meeting was to develop a 2+2 pathway with major universities in UK, US and Canada-Sannam S4. Sannam S4 with HQ in London, UK as well as in Washinton DC, US is the global player in the International Market which have tie-ups with top 3 universities in every English speaking countries. They are invited to visit SRM University Delhi-NCR campus and initiate the future relationships. Sannam S4 is having strong Indian presence with own offices in Delhi, Gurugram, Mumbai and Bengaluru.

Online Event with
Prof. Mikhail Grafov
Director at Contemporary Education
Programmes and ex Head & Faculty of

Launch of Siemens “Centre of Excellence” at SRM University Delhi-NCR

SIEMENS

Ingenuity for life

On 15th September, 2020, SRM University Delhi-NCR signed a Memorandum of Agreement (MoA) with Siemens Industry Software (India) Private Limited to establish the “Siemens Centre of Excellence (COE)” in the university campus. In the first phase of the establishment of Siemens COE, the following labs will be available for teachers, students and researchers of the university:

- Product Digitalization – Design Lab
- Process Digitalization – Production Planning Lab
- Bio Tech Specialized Lab
- Simulation and Analysis Lab
- CNC Controller Lab

The Siemens Centre of Excellence (COE) was officially launched through an online meet on 23rd September, 2020 (in accordance with the recent Covid-19 social distance norms). During this official launch of Siemens COE, the Hon'ble Chancellor, Shri Ravi Pachamoothoo, Registrar and officiating Vice Chancellor, Dr. Manish Bhalla, Dean Academic Affairs, Prof. V. Samuel Raj, Director Administration and International Relations, Mr. Manoj Madhavan Kutty and Prof. R.A. Yadav, Advisor to Hon'ble Chancellor from SRM University Delhi-NCR, and Mr. Akhilesh Sahi, Director (Sales) - Academic: Siemens Industrial Software Pvt. Ltd and Mr. Ajay Deshkar, CEO of 3D Engineering Automation were present amongst the prominent dignitaries.

INCUBATION CENTER
EMERGING INNOVATION

Arduino Batch 2.0

Following the Drone training program by Incubation center SRM University, Delhi NCR, Haryana, a group of students were selected as they excelled in the first batch of Arduino training and drone- RC car workshops. These students were given a chance to be a part of Incubation SRM and they emerged as the new face of Incubation. A new batch was invited to learn about Arduino microcontroller, various sensors, and the application of such technologies. Hands-on training was provided to the new batch 2.0 by the members of Incubation SRM with help from the founding team of Incubation SRM. The new batch attended the training sessions held at the university every weekend. They learned how to work with Arduino Uno boards, to write programs for these boards and to use LEDs, various sensors such as IR sensor, Temperature sensor, Ultrasound sensor, Potentiometers, and Motors. Students attended these classes with great enthusiasm and the new members of the Incubation team received positive feedback. The experience was both memorable and enjoyable while being innovative and informative.

INCUBATION CENTER
INSPIRING INNOVATION

IoT workshop

Students participating in IoT training program

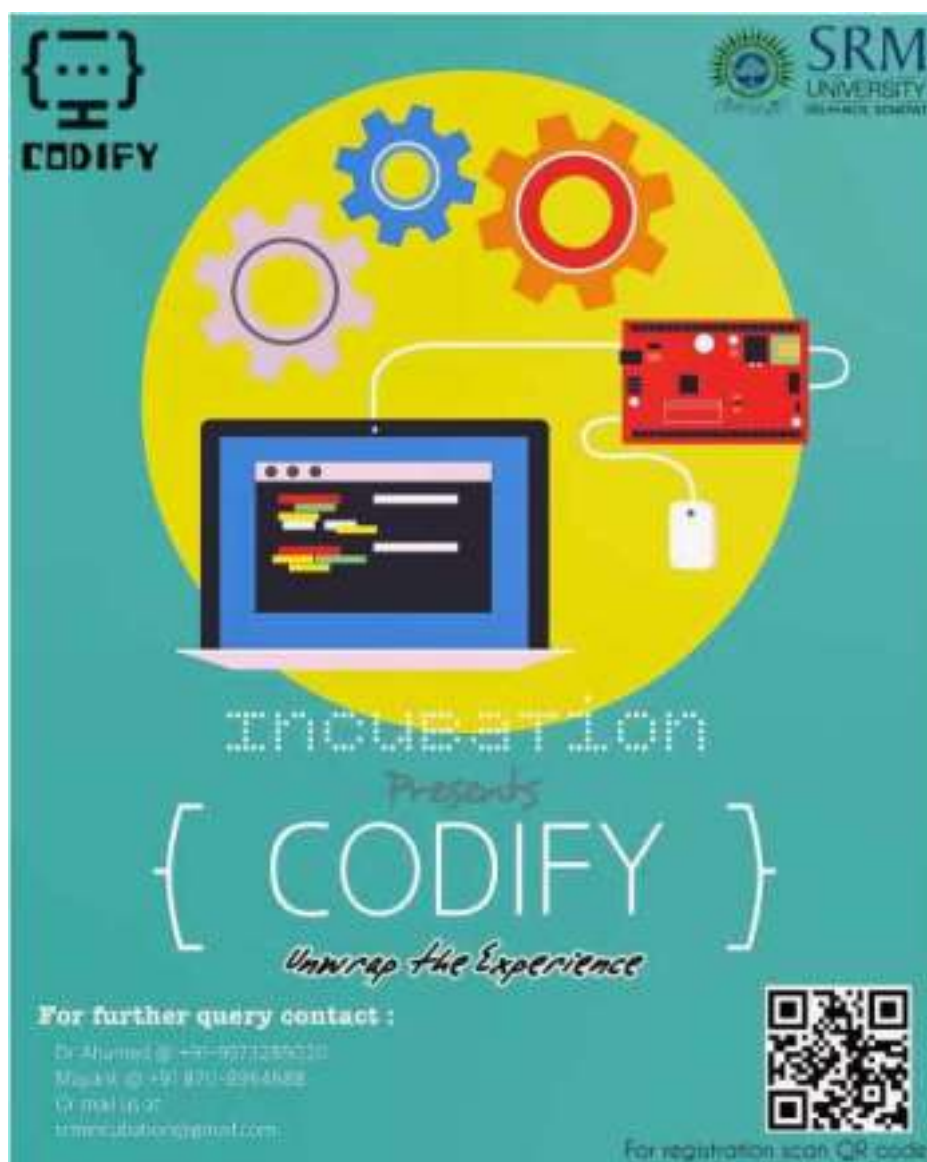

A special workshop was held for the first batch of the Incubation center SRM University. This time the Trainers were back with additional technologies and concepts to learn. This time Incubation SRM organized a workshop for the recently booming technology of IoT or “Internet of Things.” The students who joined the first batch 1.0 of Arduino training got together in this workshop to venture into this new thriving technology. In this workshop students were taught about the concept of IoT and its various uses along with hands-on training and application of this concept using ESP8266 and NodeMCU boards, they learned how to send data to online cloud-based platforms and how to use this data in real life to communicate between machines. A real-life application of IoT was also shown to them in the form of simple home automation. They learned to make mobile applications using MIT app inventor with which they were able to turn the lights on and off, they were able to send information regarding temperature and humidity and learned how to use them to build fire alarms. The session was concluded and students walked out with the knowledge of new technology and new concepts.

CODIFY

Having a network of good mentors is one of the most important assets in coding. It's not only confined to mentorship, but it's also about developing a workspace where everyone can passionately showcase their skills and their talents. Incubation center, SRM University aims to provide a gateway for the students at our university to join the coding community. We create a platform that allows students to gain assistance and mentorship to enhance their coding ability. CODIFY was initiated under INCUBATION. Following a 30-day contest, DailyQue was held from 16th March to 15th April where new challenges were added every day to help students build skills based on algorithms. The top three students were awarded after the contest based on the leader-board. Following this one week contest, "Codify Contest 1.0" was held from 1st to 6th June. New problems were added to help students test their knowledge by solving intermediate level every day. Students attended these events with great enthusiasm. The experience was exhilarating while being ingenious and enlightening.

Biotech Ignition Grant - Webinar

The Department of Biomedical Engineering, Biotechnology, & Microbiology organized an awareness session webinar through a strategic program IDEA on 17th BIG (Biotech Ignition Grant) on September 1, 2020. The Guest Speakers of the session were Mr. Sudhanshu Shekhar and Ms. Suman from the BSC BioNEST Bio-Incubator at Regional Centre for Biotechnology, (Department of Biotechnology, Government of India). This lecture aims to help startups, nurture their innovative ideas and develop globally competitive products or technologies, with the objective of fostering Indian biomedical/Biotech innovation and entrepreneurship. They talked about BIG is one of the most sought-after funding schemes for all Bio-entrepreneurs. BIG is a flagship scheme of BIRAC, which provides support to young startups and entrepreneurial individuals.

WEBINAR ON

Biomedical Engineering

The Department of Biomedical Engineering organized an exclusive webinar on the Introduction to Biomedical Engineering on September 16, 2020 during e- AAGAAZ 2K20. The Guest Speaker of the session was Dr. Marshal, Associate Professor School of Biomedical Engineering, IIT(BHU), Varanasi.

He delivered his talk on current research works going in his lab and more specifically, the mask developed by Dr. Marshal and his team to arrest the spread of Covid-19.

Webinar on

Biotechnology, Microbiology and Biomedical Engineering

The Department of Biomedical Engineering, Biotechnology, & Microbiology organized a webinar on Career counselling on September 18, 2020 during e- AAGAAZ 2K20. The Guest Speaker of the session was Mr. Lalit Kumar Pankaj from Canada. He talked about deep understanding of career plans for the students, interests, aptitudes, personalities and explained career confusions related to jobs and further higher studies.

A talk on

Vaccines against COVID-19

The Department of Biomedical Engineering, Biotechnology, & Microbiology organized a talk on Vaccines against COVID-19 on December 3rd, 2020. The Guest Speaker for the session was Professor Jorge Kalil, Professor and Head of the Clinical Immunology and Allergy Department at the School of Medicine, University of São Paulo and a Visiting Professor at Harvard Medical School and Harvard School of Public Health, USA. Prof. Jorge Kalil is using an approach for developing a COVID-19 vaccine that entails using molecular biology techniques to develop empty, non-infectious multi-protein structures known as virus-like particles (VLPs) that are easily recognizable by immune system cells. "The vaccine we're proposing resembles the protein coat of a virus. It has the external part of a virus, but it doesn't have nucleic acid inside, which is what allows it to multiply," Kalil said.

DEPARTMENT OF COMPUTER SCIENCE & ENGINEERING

WEBINAR ON

Blockchain Technology

Exclusive webinar on the topic "Blockchain Technology" was overseen by the Department of Computer Science & Engineering on 28th May 2020. Around 100 students and faculty members from various courses partook in the webinar. The expert Mr Joji Varghese, Founder & CEO, Print2Block delivered a mind provoking proficient lecture on Blockchain technology. Mr Joji emphasized on the significance of Blockchain Technology adoption in Industry revolution 4.0 and responded sufficiently to the quandaries of students and faculty members during an interactive session.

ERP & IT webinar

conducted in Association with TCS

Exclusive Webinar on the topic "ERP&IT" was successfully organized by the Department of Computer Science & Engineering on 15th May 2020. Faculty members and students from the various department joined in the webinar.

The SPARKS Coding Club of Department of Computer Science Engineering organized an online workshop on 17th October, 2020 on “JAVA & REDIS”.

Webinars in Association with IBM

Department of Computer Science Engineering hosted a 9-series webinar in association with IBM under the banner “IBM SPOC for IBM Specialization” on Sept 4, 2020, Sept. 11, 2020, Sept. 18, 2020, and Sept 25, 2020. IBM Career Education organized this series of technical webinars for the benefit of students. The first Webinar session in this 9-series session was on “Data Science Concepts” held on September 4th at 4.00 - 5.30 PM where the speaker, Mamatha Venkatesh who is an AI Architect for Supply Chain solutions working with IBM Insights and Intelligence Expert Labs (with over 18+ years of experience in IT Industry) talked about the significance of AI and introduced certain terms and concepts like AI, Data Science/ Machine Learning, Deep learning, and their differences. The Second Webinar Session was on “Deep Dive on Data Science Phases”. It was the 2nd session of the 9 series session on Data Science held on September 11th at 4.00 - 5.15 PM. The Agenda of the webinar was Introduction to CRISP DM graced by the eminent speaker, M J Prarthana. The third webinar session was on “Introduction to Supervised vs unsupervised vs Semi-Supervised learning” conducted on September 18th at 4.00 - 5.15 PM. The session’s agenda was to introduce sample problems in each area (Fraud Detection, Text Classification, Customer Clustering), Linear models. The fourth and the last Webinar session was on “Non-Linear Problems - Data Science - Session 4” conducted on September 25, 2020 from 4 pm to 5:15 pm. The Speaker for the event was Naveen K Yadav who is an AI Consultant for Supply Chain.

WEBINAR ON

System on Chip

A webinar is organized by the department of electronics and communication engineering on System on Chip (SOC) for the development process. The speaker of the session was Mr. Manivannan K, Design Manager, INTEL, Bangalore. He delivered the lecture on emerging technology in Chip design. Furthermore, he gave details of design of generic communication architecture and process of developing systems on chip. Around 75 students and 25 faculty members attended the webinar. This webinar helped to understand various designing methods and processing techniques to develop a new chip for computing and communication circuits. This webinar assisted to students and faculty members in their academic and research work.

India Expo Mart visit

Electrical and Electronics Engineering students attended India Expo Mart in Greater Noida on 12th February, 2020. EEE Students got the opportunity to view best of commercial vehicles, passenger vehicles, scooters, bikes, trucks and buses as well as electric vehicles in what is one of Asia's premier automotive extravaganza. Keeping in mind the need of the hour, reducing the carbon emissions, many top brands displayed their advanced eco-friendly electric vehicle for commuters. The car maker giants from across the globe showcased their road marvels at the week-long exhibition. A wide variety of concept cars were unveiled at the Auto Expo including electric vehicles, CNG vehicles and hybrid cars. The zero-emission all-weather SUV Volkswagen I.D. Crozz showcased at the Auto Expo 2020, offers a top speed of 180 km/h. The car brings with it features of both SUV and a coupe. One single charge can operate the car for travel up to 500 km. Moreover, its fast chargers enable 80 percent battery in 30 minutes.

NEW APPOINTMENTS

Dr. Avinash Singh
Department of Chemistry

Dr Avinash Singh obtained his PhD in chemical sciences from Bhabha Atomic Research Centre, Homi Bhabha National Institute, Mumbai in 2018 under the supervision of Prof. M.C. Rath. He worked as Junior Research Fellow from 2013 to 2015 and Senior Research Fellow from 2015 to 2018 in Radiation and Photochemistry Division, Bhabha Atomic Research Centre, Mumbai. Prior to this, he studied B. Sc. (Hons.) and M. Sc. in Chemistry from Banaras Hindu University, Varanasi. After completing his PhD, he joined MLR Institute of Technology, Hyderabad as Assistant Professor. Recently, he joined the Department of Chemistry, SRM University, Delhi-NCR, at the capacity of Assistant Professor. His research interest lies in the synthesis and applications of semiconductor nanomaterials using soft chemical, radiation chemical and photochemical methods. He is a life member of Indian Society of Radiation and Photochemical Sciences (ISRAPS).

Dr. Deepak Mishra
Department of Chemistry

Dr Deepak Mishra joined the Department of Chemistry, SRM University, as an Assistant Professor in June 2020. He obtained his graduate and master's degree from DDU Gorakhpur University in 2006 and 2008 respectively. After completion of his master he joined Department of Environmental Science, Jawaharlal Lal Nehru University, Delhi as project JRF from 2010- 2011. He conducted his doctoral research (2012-2018) on "Synthesis of Heterocyclic molecules as potential anti-alzheimeric agents" under the supervision of Dr Ram Singh, Department of Applied Chemistry, DTU, Delhi and Late Dr. C. Rout, Department of Biotechnology and Bioinformatics, JUIT, HP. During his PhD he has authored several articles and 2 Book Chapters in various national and international journal. After Completion of PhD he worked as Assistant Professor at Kirori Mal College, University of Delhi from August 2017- Jan 2020. His research area mainly focused on Synthetic Organic Chemistry, Bi-organic Chemistry, Medicinal Chemistry, Neurochemistry, Catalytic chemistry.

Dr. Naresh Kumar
Department of Chemistry

Naresh Kumar belongs to Talai, a small town in Himachal Pradesh, India. He studied Chemistry at the Guru Nanak Dev University, India and obtained his PhD in 2013. He then pursued a Research Associate position at National University of Singapore until 2014. Afterwards, he joined PPSM, CNRS, ENS-Cachan, France as a Postdoctoral Fellow from 2014-2016. From 2016-2018, he has worked as a Postdoctoral Researcher for Japan Society for the Promotion Science (JSPS) at Osaka University, Japan. His research focuses on the development and application of fluorescent probes in biomolecular imaging.

Dr Archana Kadiyan

He has 21 years industrial experience at various executive levels in MTNL Delhi and 9 years of experience in teaching Technical, Management, Personality Development and Skill Development courses at Institute of Telecom Technology & Management. He was in-charge of Industrial Training for Engineering students and in-charge of skill development programs under National Skill Development Corporation (NSDC) apart from having many administrative responsibilities. After taking VRS from MTNL Delhi, he joined SRM University Delhi-NCR in May 2020.

Dr. Navin Chandra Joshi
Department of Physics

Dr. Naveen Joshi is an M.Sc. in Physics from Kumaun University, Nainital. For his Postdoctoral Fellowship he joined Aryabhata Research Institute of Observational Sciences (ARIES), Nainital. During the period of 2014-18, he conducted research from Kyung Hee University, Yongin-si, South Korea at the capacity of research professor. Upon his return to India, he joined the research activities at Udaipur Solar Observatory, Physical Research Laboratory, Udaipur, India. With around eight years of research experience in the field of Solar Physics, he is actively involved in the area of \observational Solar Physics. Currently, he is working on the various aspects of solar flares, eruptive prominences/filaments, solar jets and coronal mass ejections using the high-resolution multiwavelength imaging and magnetic field data from space as well as ground-based instruments to understand their initiation/triggering mechanisms.

Dr. Shailendra Kumar Gupta
Department of Physics

Dr. Shailendra Kumar Gupta joined the Department of Physics at SRM University in May 2020. He received his Master in science (M.Sc.) in Physics (electronics) from C.C.S. University, Meerut in 2007. Later he joined M.Tech. programme in Materials Science Programme at Indian Institute of Technology Kanpur and completed programme in 2009. His doctoral degree on "Organic Photovoltaic" is acquired from Indian Institute of Technology, Kanpur under the supervision of Prof. Ashish Garg in Materials Science and Engineering department. As his post-doctoral experience, he worked at Indian Institute of Technology Kanpur for 1 year. He has been awarded National-Post Doctorate Fellowship (N-PDF) of grant 19.0 Lakhs under the mentorship of Center for Energy Studies at Indian Institute of Technology Delhi for two years. His research focuses on the field of organic and perovskite solar cells both in experimental as well as modelling of these devices.
